

On the journey of life, we can find ourselves in some tough predicaments from time to time. There can be times when it feels as though all hope is lost; when we may begin to despair and wonder how we'll ever see it through. It's at times like these when it's most important to keep our head up and continue trudging along.

There is a way out of every situation, no matter how bleak it may seem at the time. And some of the bleakest situations offer some of the most profound lessons for our lives – things we can learn from, grow from, and become a better person from. It's when times are bleakest that our fortunes have a way of turning for the better, just in the nick of time.
